The Vermont Election.

The election in Vermont last Tuesday has no encouragement in it for the republicans. Should the same rate of gain or loss be maintained in the November election. Mo-Kinley will be handsomely defeated. The democrats gained fifteen per cent in Varmont, and the republicane lost nine per cent, That ratio will lose the republicans Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky, Michigan, California and Oregan, with New York, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ohio.

The Crawfis Institute,

In Fairfield county is one of the most sensibly conducted educational Institutes of the country. It is an endowed school for the township benefit. The pupils are educated in require, are given instruction in all the higher branches. The Crawfis is a common school and a college combined. The pupils are taught to spell, to cipher and are instructed in the principles that operate a handspike, which turns a log, a wheel which carries a cart or a palace car, a pulley which swings a stone or lifts a bridge, a wedge that splits a log or puts in float a man of war. The Crawfis is a school where pupils are educated so that when they encounter the work of the world, they are equipped with useful knowledge..

REPUBLICAN DESPERATION. To show the extent of the despera tion of the Hanneites it is only necespary to call attention to the miserable falsifications invented and printed by them. Here is an average specimen. The State Journal of September 1, and robably several other Republican organs, printed what purported to be an extract from William J. Bryan's Indianapolis speech, in which he is represented as using the following lanruage with reference

Filipino general:

"Hold the fort, for I am coming!
